Keeping Up The Milk Flow.

The amount of cream sold by Missouri farmers has diminished about one-third during the last three weeks. This decrease is largely due to the recent severe drought that has dried up the pastures. Only those cows that have received some feed besides pasture grass have kept up their usual June milk flow. The farmer who allows his cows to huddle for themselves on the parched pastures is making a mistake. Not only is it hard on the pastures but it is false economy to allow the cows to drop off in milk yield in order to save a few dollars on the feed bill. The grass, especially the bluegrass, must get its new growth from the roots, and if it is to make the best growth possible and produce the largest amount of feed it must be allowed to get a fair start. Grass grows much more rapidly after it is up a couple of inches than when it is closely cropped. By observing this point favorable weather conditions will result in good late pastures. In order to take advantage of these good late pastures and to profit by the higher price of butterfat which is paid in the fall and winter the milk yield of the cows must be kept up, for if it is allowed to drop off it can never be regained. Money spent for feed that does not return a profit now will do so later.

What to feed for this purpose will of course depend upon the kind of feed that is at hand. If possible, the feed should be succulent and cheap, if not it will probably be profitable to feed the higher priced dry feeds, as grain and hay in order to maintain the yield. The green feeds which are usually used for this purpose, sorghum and corn, are not to be had this year because the drought came so very early. But where a green feed is available it should be fed. The farmer whose out crop is too short to bind can put it to no better purpose than that of using it as a green feed. For the farmer who is lucky enough or wise enough to have silage the problem is a simple one as silage furnishes the best and cheapest feed for this purpose. This experience should prove a lesson to those farmers who have empty silos and to those who can afford to build silos but have neglected to do so. A supply of silage at a time like this means dollars saved.

THE BEST PROOF

Given By a Lexington Citizen.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they brought benefit. The story was told to a Lexington residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence.

Has proven the result lasting.

The testimony is home testimony—

The proof convincing.

It can be investigated by Lexington residents.

Mrs. Butler Talbott, 2107 Franklin Ave., Lexington, Mo., says: "Congested kidneys and inflammation of the bladder gave me intense suffering for months. I had trouble with the kidney secretions and suffered from dull, dragging backaches and pains through my kidneys. I was hardly able to work and doctoring brought me no relief. Finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at Crenshaw & Young's Drug Store and they relieved me." (Statement given December 4, 1911.)

LASTING RESULTS

When Mrs. Talbott was interviewed on October 16, 1912, she said: "I cheerfully confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills and I can still recommend them. The benefit they brought has been permanent."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The August Woman's Home Companion.

A remarkable contribution to the August Woman's Home Companion is an article entitled "Ethics and Cooks" by Zona Gale, in which the author shows how scientific cooking is really in its infancy. Various foods have various values and various human beings have various requirements, yet food is seldom cooked except in hospitals with a view to the special requirements of the body. Miss Gale thinks that a great revolution will take place along this line.

The Woman's Home Companion's campaign for "Better Babies" is continued in the August number with a report by Anna Steese Richardson of "Better Babies in the cities" in which report Mrs. Richardson describes two baby shows of the new kind at Knoxville, Tennessee, and Des Moines, Iowa, where the children were judged and awarded prizes for their physical condition rather than for their beauty. This is one of the important characteristics in the new movement—a movement which is spreading with enormous rapidity.

Other interesting articles in the August number are "Talents and Vocations Shown by Handwriting;" "The World's Greatest Lovers;" "A Garden Fair for Summer Time;" "Where to Spend Your Vacation;" and "Make Your Christmas Presents Early." Fiction is contributed by Mary Heaton Vorse, Mary Hastings Bradley, Gertrude King Tufts, Frederick M. Smith and Sophia Chandler. The regular Cooking, Fashion, Household and Young People's departments, together with special art features, complete an issue of unusual charm and substance.

Forest Notes.

France has spent $35,000,000 in planting trees on the watersheds of important streams.

According to the Canadian forestry association 50 per cent of Canada is capable of growing nothing but timber crops.

Ammonia bombs are being tried out on some of the national forests for the purpose of extinguishing forest fires. They are said to have worked well in the case of brush fires where the fire fighters find difficulty in getting near enough to the burning area to beat out the flames. Each bomb exploded will extinguish fire in a circle of about five yards in diameter.

The Western Pacific Railway has instructed its engineers to report fires along the right-of-way where it traverses the Plumas national forest, California. The location of fires is indicated on a card dropped by the engineer or fireman to the next section crew met after the fire is discovered. It is then the duty of part of the section crew to go back on handcars or speeders and put out the blaze.

More persons make use of the national forests in Utah than in any other state. Nearly 27 per cent of all the permits for sheep and cattle grazing on the forests are taken out in this state. This does not mean, however, that Utah carries one-fourth of all the national forest cattle and sheep; it happens that many small grazing interests make use of the forests there; and individual flocks and herds are larger elsewhere.

Mrs. E. B. Young left Saturday morning for a visit in Jefferson City.

Miss Elsie Weber left Friday evening for a visit in Larned, Kansas, with relatives.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Miss Anna Jasper returned to her home in Sedalia Friday evening after a visit here with relatives.

"The LIFE of a wagon is what counts—that's why I buy a Studebaker"

"That's reasonable, isn't it?"

"A wagon that doesn't last is expensive no matter what price you pay for it."

"Suppose you buy three wagons, one after the other, and the three of them don't last as long as one Studebaker—which is the best bargain?"

"I didn't find this out myself. I heard my grandfather say it a good many years ago. He said he had proved that it paid to buy a Studebaker. I followed his advice to my own satisfaction."

"A wagon can't have life in it unless it has the material and work and finish in it. The Studebaker people have been making vehicles for sixty years. They ought to know how to make wagons right—and they do. They have the reputation because they've produced the goods. They don't put the name Studebaker on until the wagon's right, and when you see the name Studebaker on a vehicle of any kind it is your insurance of quality."

"That's why I buy a Studebaker. I trust a Studebaker wagon because I trust the people that make them. It's good business."

"A Studebaker promise is always made good."
